

July 2, 2009

To Whom it May Concern,

There is nothing like a story that is real and first hand. We have all had presentations on what to do or what not to do on any given topic, but it is not often we have heard the story from the "other side." Presenter Troy Evans gave our attendees a perspective many had never heard before and that was from the mind of the criminal. He was on the "other side" for many years and is now on the right side of the fence to share what we can do as financial institutions to protect ourselves from many who are still on the other side.

From the moment Troy started to speak, he captured the audience. He shared experiences many of us would only see on an evening Dateline special. Troy has a message that is important in today's world for us to hear. We need to know how to prevent robberies and to identify the criminals doing the act. I highly recommend Troy as he will bring high ratings to your next event. Here are some of the comments Troy received at our conference:

"Wonderful. Kept my attention the entire time. Could have listened more. Will get his video for robbery training."

"Excellent speaker and topic that all credit unions can relate to."

"EXCELLENT!!! Unique speaker!! Very good since he was the real deal—been there and done that!!"

"He was extremely interesting to listen to. What a tremendous story of growth and perseverance. He inspired us all."

"A super speaker with great info for our business!"

"HE WAS A VERY GOOD SPEAKER! AMAZING STORY."

Troy was saved the day he was captured so he could live to some day share his stories with us. See how Troy's change can make all the difference for you! Feel free to contact me anytime regarding this outstanding individual at 800.279.6328 ext. 3954.

Sincerely,

Amy Jo Johnson
Education Coordinator
Mid-America Credit Union Association