Dear Troy:

Thank you so much for your presentation to the Human Resources Association of Greater Concord, NH last week! As our first speaker of the program year, you had the responsibility of delivering an attention-grabbing presentation, and you did not disappoint! Your presentation drew our largest group of members ever, and such comments as "Troy Evans was a great inspiration." "Pin-drop speaker" and "Great speaker – shows what someone can accomplish given the right determination and drive." Your outstanding presentation kept our members glued to their seats, and prompted a very rare standing ovation. We thank you for sharing your inspirational story with us. Your message that hard work, dedication, and the strength to believe can bring about such positive changes and transformation is something we can all apply to our personal and professional lives.

Thank you again for a wonderful presentation. Given the large number of our members lingering after your presentation, I hope you will soon be delivering your important message to more companies, schools and organizations across New Hampshire, and the country.

With much appreciation,

Tracie Wajer
Vice President
Human Resources Association – Greater Concord, NH
